1st ScapeWorld young Landscape Architects and Students survey! In 2015, IFLA Europe launched programme Scapeworld, whose objective is to raise awareness about landscape architecture engaging LA students, young practitioners, general public and all those interested in landscape architecture. The main objective is to create initially a virtual space, an area understood as a playground, where LA professionals, young LA practitioners and students can “meet”, learn about other and present their own landscapes, identity, etc. Activities carried out would be presented to wide public in order to explain better and become more understandable what landscape architecture is and why was it so important for the future of our society. The aim of this Survey is to have a global overview about the situation of students in Landscape Architecture (LA) disciplines within Europe as well as their concern, worries and ideas.

WLAM – IFLA Europe contributes to World Landscape Architecture Month

April was the world landscape architecture month and IFLA Europe members contributed to it:

PORTUGAL – Our member APAP is celebrating the World Landscape Architecture Month 2019 with the PREMIERE OF THE FILM ‘ALL IS LANDSCAPE’ on 2 April 2019. This documentary’s author is Duarte Natário, a Landscape Architect who is searching for origins, stories, works and names that have marked the Portuguese Landscape Architecture since its foundation in Portugal until today. The author decides to make a tour over Landscape Architecture, in an attempt to unveil the legacy of the profession in our country, through interviews, photos and memories.

SPAIN - On 5 April 2019, at 16.00 hrs, a Conference is organised by our member AEP - La Asociación Española de Paisajistas. Conference will take place at Salón de actos del Teatro Casa de Vacas (Parque del Retiro), Paseo de Colombia, s/n, in Madrid.

HUNGARY - Our member - Hungarian Association of Landscape Architects - HALA together with Szent István University – Faculty of Landscape Architecture and Urbanism and the Chamber of Hungarian Architects – Section of Landscape Architects will organise Conference on 23-24 April 2019.

ITALY - Every year, our member AIAPP organises various types of initiatives during the month of April, including the event called "Gardens and Open Landscapes" which gives an overview of AIAPP’s all territorial sections involved devoted to marking the World Landscape Architecture Month. The 2019 review of Gardens and Open Landscapes is entitled MEDITERRANEA. All WLAM activities are available on IFLA Europe website: <http://iflaeurope.eu/organisation/committees-and-working-groups/communication/world-landscape-architecture-month/>

IFLA Europe launches its 2019 Young Professionals Competition on the theme “Landscape as a collective memory”

We are proud to launch the IFLA Europe 2019 Young Professionals Competition on the theme: “Landscape as a collective memory”. The deadline for submitting your contributions is 17 June 2019! You may submit your entries in the following categories: A Conceptual projects/Ideas B Realised projects. The winner of each category will be invited to our General Assembly which will take place 8-10 November in Antalya, Turkey! This is an extraordinary opportunity for the youngest members of our profession to be part of the annual meeting of landscape architects from all over Europe, following the Conference organised by the Turkish National Association CTLA from 6-8 November 2019. The entries will be in the following categories for Young Professionals (i.e those who are graduated but also students of post graduate diploma or masters programmes as per above i.e a student/alumnus of a landscape architecture course or a practitioner in the field of landscape architecture.) about the topic of the year, which corresponds to the GA topic. You are free to present any entry corresponding to this thematic as there is no further criteria. For more information on requirements and how to apply, please visit <http://youthcompetition.iflaeurope.eu/>

News from our partners: ECTP-CEU – European Council of Spatial Planners/Conseil européen des urbanistes. The Young Planners Workshop 2019 will be concluded at the 13th Biennial of European Towns and Town Planners to be held 11th-13th September 2019 in Plymouth, UK under the general title “Planning on the edge”. In the frame of the Biennial, the ECTP Young Planners Workshop is scheduled as a preliminary event of the Biennial in order to encourage debate amongst and with young planners. The ECTP-CEU/XIII Biennial organisation encourages young planners throughout Europe to exchange experiences and ideas about European urban and regional challenges.
